To the Loma Lux People

In April 2011 I was diagnosed with Dyshidrotic Dermatitis, a form of Psoriasis that mainly occurs on the backs of your hands. It was very debilitating and doctors put me on prescription steroid pills and creams. It was so bad, that at 56 years old I thought I may have to leave my job because I had such a hard time using my hands.

The prescriptions were unbelievably expensive and were only a “treatment”, not a cure – or even close to a cure. I looked for other options and came across Loma Lux recommended by a doctor’s monthly newsletter I subscribe to.

I took your Loma Lux Psoriasis liquid and used your Epionce extreme barrier cream instead of the prescriptions. I saw my first recognizable results in about 8 weeks. (Remember my condition was VERY bad) After about 2 years, my condition went from dire, to very manageable.

I no longer use the liquid Loma Lux Psoriasis, but I still use the Epionce extreme barrier cream only when I need it.

Thank-You for a fine product
